

Can You Hear Me Now? (DiSC Communication Styles)
Managing the fine art of getting through to others
Offered by Silvers HR, LLC

Course Description

This mini workshop shows you how to improve your interpersonal relationships through communication skills that get others' attention. We use the very popular and respected DiSC Communication Styles assessment to begin the exploration of your communication style and what to look for in others.

Who should enroll?

Supervisors, managers, business owners, volunteers, HR specialists, students. If you're communicating in or out of the work setting you'll find this valuable

Workshop highlights include:

- Identifying your own communication style, including a personalized written report on your profile
- Learning how to read others' communication styles and cues
- Increasing your appreciation of others; respecting and valuing the differences
- Understanding why some people just don't "get it" and how to break through
- A fun look at the quiriness of your own (yes, YOU) and others' styles

Contact us at (916) 791-8506 for more information